FREELANCE
SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER

Hello

Nice to meet you!

Freelance Senior Project & Account Manager for digital and 360° campaigns, websites, e-shops, content production, digital innovations, (web-)apps and much more.

Working for different agencies and companies around Europe.

I am based in Hamburg, Germany.

I am a freelance Senior Digital Project and Account Manager, also working as a Virtual Assistant, operating on a freelance basis for both online/digital and traditional agencies throughout Europe.

Since 2009, I have gained extensive expertise in digital projects with a professional agency background dating back to 2004.

My career has spanned roles at a variety of digital agencies and extensive work with major clients. I am well versed in the skilful management of projects and the skilful leadership of teams of creative professionals and developers to achieve successful results.

I am committed to helping your team with any challenge, whether it's day-to-day project management or new business processes, and I'm happy to work on everything from individual projects to 360-degree communication.

Through my work on a wide variety of accounts - from beer to cars - I have been able to gain valuable experience from which my clients can now benefit.

My know-how ranges from classic communication to packaging design and brand development to trade marketing campaigns. I am also happy to support you with online projects. For example, banner campaigns, landing page developments, etc.

While I am headquartered in Hamburg, Germany I am readily available to contribute to projects spanning Europe or even globally, embracing remote work.
